

New Jersey's consumer protection laws should NOT be weakened. We have a right to peaceful and uninterrupted time with our family after a long day of work. Just like we wouldn't want a sales man to ring our door bell, we don't want telemarketers to ring our phone. Maybe the other states should follow the suite and make their law this strict.